

The professional body for HR
and people development.

The future of work is in our hands

Join us for the evening to hear from Caroline Beard, CIPD's Head of Employer Engagement. She will give us an overview of the CIPD and talk about how they work with organisations and individuals to develop the profession. We're hoping that areas of particular interest will be:

- CIPD's contribution to research and policy in the world of work
- HR apprenticeships and insights

Caroline and colleagues will join us for networking and will be happy to help with any questions you may have about your own options or those for your organisation.

- The benefits of becoming a member and how to join
- Options for professional development and services to support your career development
